Believe in Your Dreams, and Then See What God Will Do!

By Rev. Robert A. Schuller, Senior Pastor

Last month I began a series of messages entitled "Believe It! See It!" During this series, which continues this month, my intention is to inspire and motivate you to challenge any obstacles in your life that are keeping you from achieving the dreams that God has placed in your heart.

I am hoping that you begin to think seriously about real measurable goals – those things that you would do if you knew you could not fail. And then together, I want us to commit these things to God through prayer, because the Bible tells us – and I believe it – that ALL things are possible with God!"

God's Assurance of His Love for You!

By Robert H. Schuller, Founding Pastor

God often uses His creation to illustrate a point or to assure us of His love. In Deuteronomy 32:11-12, God is portrayed as a dedicated mother eagle who's teaching her young to fly.

Even before laying her eggs, a mother eagle builds a comfortable nest for her young, lining it with soft grass and feathers from her own breast. When it's time for the young to leave the nest, the mother eagle begins removing the soft grass and feathers from it, making the nest a very uncomfortable place for the young eaglets to stay. Because she knows that eagles are made to soar, a mother eagle will not fail to teach her offspring to fly. When the time is right, she picks up a perplexed eaglet, soars into the sky, and drops it. The eaglet begins free falling, but mother eagle isn't far away. She quickly swoops under the falling eaglet and catches the fledgling on one strong wing. Then she soars upward again, often as

Crystal Cathedral Today!
 The Quiet Servant

By Dr. Bill Gaultiere, Executive Director of New Hope

I have enjoyed interviewing our New Hope Counselors of the month since we began this about two years ago. I enjoy it when I get to know them better and hear their stories of why they joined New Hope and what it means to them and their relationships with Christ. They're all such good people with good hearts! And God is using each one to minister the love of Christ to the poor and needy.

Each time I call a New Hope counselor to say, "Hello _____. You've been chosen to be New Hope's Counselor of the month!" They say something like, "You're kidding. Can't you think of someone else? I'm not doing anything special. I'm just serving the Lord. I don't need any fanfare."

Usually, I'm able to talk the person into accepting the honor because it is a chance for the rest of our New Hope family and Crystal Cathedral congregation to be encouraged by getting to know a bit about another of our many, many "unsung heroes." Each has an important story to tell. Each of is doing an extraordinary service for the Lord that blesses Him and helps people.

So, to start off year 2008 our New Hope Counselor of the month is "Anonymous." We'll call her (or him) "Quiet Servant." Each month our intention is to honor the Lord and appreciate all of New Hope counselors by doing a feature on just one.

Give Yourself Time

By Sharon Lockett, Director of Divorce & Grief Recovery

If you knew me, you would realize how difficult it is for me to say, "Give yourself time." You would never speak of me and patience in the same breath. And, as much as I hate to be told, I must tell you to be patient. It takes time.

Nothing can replace that which you must experience if you want to be truly whole again (and you do—even if you don't think so now).

That hurt...that emptiness...that anger...that hatred...that frustration...that despair...that guilt...that loneliness...that rage...that self-hate—all that wages a battle on your inside—must come outside before God can replace it with His goodness, and healing can become complete.

If you just let the surface heal over, what remains on

Gratefully Accepting the Gift of a Compliment

By Dr. Jim Kok, Director of Care Ministries

It sounds like the saintliest of attitudes when, for example, a thanked preacher retorts, "Don't thank me; just praise the Lord." However, such a reply makes the thankful parishioner feel rebuffed – straight-armed by a pious platitude. The gift is thrown back.

Accepting compliments is difficult for many people: The exquisite meal is shrugged off as "something I threw together in a minute," or the attractive dress is discounted as "something from a bargain basement." Teenagers, too, seem to suffer from "compliment aversion." They tend to shove praise away frantically, as if they are afraid they'll be contaminated by the positive regard, especially if it comes from an adult.

My own conversion, from gift-rejecter to grateful accepter, happened at the door of Trinity Church. I had just preached the morning sermon. I took my customary position at the back door to greet the departing worshippers. A young woman stopped, shook my hand, and commented, "That was a very good message." While inwardly glowing from this endorsement, I gave my usual disclaimer: "It seemed a little long to me." She countered firmly, "Why can't you accept a compliment?"

Stung, I started thinking – and repenting. She had given me a gift, and I had batted it back as if it were unwanted and unneeded. My response was dishonest and unkind. The truth was that I deeply needed her supportive response. It was enormously helpful. An honest acceptance of her

Mexico Mission: "God is Doing Amazing Things"

By Mario and Erika Galvez,
Crystal Cathedral Short-Term Missionaries

The Lord is doing amazing things at the San Juan Bosco Orphanage for boys in Tecate, Mexico. Our family had the privilege of going on the short-term mission trip in November, and were welcomed with warm smiles, and a tour of the facilities. It is exciting to see what God is doing through many different organizations, including our own Crystal Cathedral, willing to share the love of Jesus.

The children who live in the orphanage range in age from 6 to 17. Some are there because of the extreme poverty, some have been abandoned, and some have been abused.

In our short time together, we played soccer basketball, foosball, and cards, had a balloon sword fight, went on hike, and six-year-old Uriel showed us how to play the game of pogs. The highlight of the mission trip for us was to hear the boys share their goals, aspirations, ambitions, and desires for their lives. Against all odds, they truly believe they can be successful and we truly believe the Lord will enable these children to do so. Israel (17) wants to be a psychologist, Helio (16) wants to be a lawyer, and Ramiro (13) wants to be a forensic scientist.

It is exciting to see what God is doing through many organizations, including our own Crystal Cathedral, willing to share the love of Jesus.

We are blessed to have met these children who have so much potential, and are looking forward to keeping in contact with them. If you have never been on a mission trip we encourage you to pray about it and see if the Lord leads you to go. For details about upcoming short-term missionary opportunities, call Gudelia Ramirez, Director of Community Missions, at 714-971-4047.

Follow Jesus on the Way to New Life!

"Following Jesus on the Way of the Cross," is a free Soul Care Seminar sponsored by the Crystal Cathedral's New Hope Counseling Ministry, presented by on Thurs., Feb. 28, 6:45 to 9 PM in the Art Gallery, William Gaultiere, Ph.D.

Presenter Dr. Bill Gaultiere, our Director of New Hope, says, "Let's prepare our hearts for the Easter joy of being raised with Christ! Together we will contemplate the events leading up to Jesus' sacrifice for us on the cross in order to discover how to take up our own cross and follow him into renewed life and ministry to others."

To help you participate in Jesus' rhythm of cross and resurrection, Bill has prepared a virtual pilgrimage to Jerusalem's "Via Dolorosa" that will feature pictures, gospel meditations, and prayers connected with each of the 14 traditional Stations of the Cross of Christ.

In this Soul Care Seminar, you will...

- Personally encounter Christ in transforming ways
- Learn new spiritual practices to use in your devotions or to share with your friends or small group
- Develop a greater appreciation for practicing self-denial in the season of Lent
- Receive a copy of Bill's poem, "Following His Via Dolorosa"
- Be encouraged by hearing how other people are experiencing Christ
- Please call to RSVP at 714-971-4123!

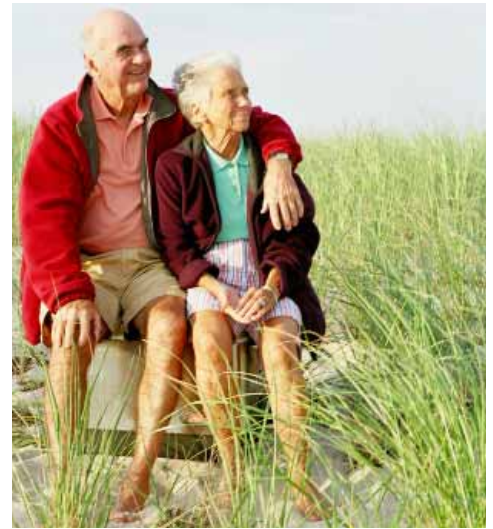

CARE & KINDNESS CONFERENCE

Care & Kindness Adds New Audiences

It started with a suggestion. The idea was that people in offices and businesses who meet the public need our Care and Kindness teaching. A light went on. Of course! That is what Jesus intended, that everybody be recruited to the joy of encouraging, welcoming, friendliness, and other expressions of loving kindness. This is not just for Christians. This is for everybody!

So, as we begin to publicize our upcoming March 13-15 conference, two new potential audiences are those from the hospitality and business industries, and those working or volunteering local church ministries.

HOSPITALITY & BUSINESS INDUSTRIES: Two of our Ministering Elders - Rebecca Caldwell who appropriately enough works at Disneyland and Mark Harris who works in customer satisfaction with The Alchemy Corporation - are enthusiastically planning workshops on how people who meet the public can do so with greater effectiveness, warmth, and enthusiasm. Retired businessperson Judy Gustum, who says her life has been significantly changed by the "care and kindness" teaching, will share on "Giving Hope through Care and Kindness" everywhere we go.

CHURCH MINISTRY STAFF & VOLUNTEERS: What about churches? The one who suggested this particular potential audience claims that calling a church on the phone is a turnoff more than half of the time. He also has noticed in his work that the office personnel in churches aren't any more warm and friendly than any business he frequents. "And," he asks, "aren't the churches supposed to be teaching the rest of the world about friendliness?" We heard him and are now inviting 100 key churches to our Care and Kindness Conference, March 13-15.

More Conference Updates...

A BEAUTIFUL GIFT OFFER: New Hope Counselors and our Ministering Elders are again welcomed to this fabulous event for the discount cost, $30 each (which includes everything except the Friday night dinner).

SPECIAL SPEAKERS: Stephen Post, author of Why Good Things Happen to Good People and a bioethics professor at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, is so enthusiastic about what we are doing that he asked to come "pro bono" (Latin "for the public good"). Stephanie Edwards, Christian speaker and broadcast personality, will share on "Christ's Kind of Care."

CO-SPONSORSHIP: For the first time, the Care and Kindness Conference is co-sponsored by Fuller Theological Seminary of Pasadena. President Richard Mouw will be one of our keynote speakers, sharing on "Cultivating a Spirit of Generosity."

FRIDAY EVENING BANQUET: Please join us at this is a sensational annual festivity! Everyone is welcome to enjoy a great dinner, a fantastic
