God's Grace Creates a "Church with a Heart"

Through Outreach and Missions, the Crystal Cathedral Touches Lives with Love

By Dr. Beverly Muffin, Pastor of Community Missions

When we speak of "missions," what do we mean? Definition: It is the "partnering" with those of good works to meet the needs of those who have 1) not heard the "good news" of the gospel of Christ, or 2) have not experienced that "good news."

In missions, we seek ways to tell people about Jesus, but the real truth of missions is that what tells ◀ Working hand-in-hand, Crystal Cathedral missions have delivered Christ's love locally, nationally, and globally, including (clockwise from top left) building a home for hurricane evacuees in Shreveport, LA; collecting and distributing teddy bears to children in local hospitals; planting gardens of nutritious vegetables in AIDS-ravaged Swaziland, South Africa; and awarding bicycles to excellent readers at nearby Lampson Elementary School.

Strength for the Fragile Heart

By Robert Anthony Schuller, Senior Pastor

I'd like to say that Christians are immune to the wear and tear of living in this troubled world. I'd like to say that our hearts and spirits aren't fragile. However, this, of course, is not so. Nonetheless, we do have a chance to make this "wear and tear" a source of strength, and a layering of spiritual toughness that belies the tender spirit that dwells and flourishes within us.

The wise prophet Isaiah gave us tried and true principles to help us lift our hearts and renew our fragile spirits in the Bible verse Isaiah 40:31: "Those who wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength. They shall mount up on wings as eagles. They shall run and not be weary. They shall walk and not faint." These principles are to:

In Memoriam: John Crean (1925-2007)

Remembering a Man of Vision and Faith

"There would be no Crystal Cathedral if it had not been for the lead-off gift of $1 million from John Crean," Dr. Robert H. Schuller says. Mr. Crean, Orange County, California's greatest philanthropist, passed away in his home on January 11, 2007.

When the building costs of the Cathedral tripled, making the project not affordable to the ministry, Dr. Schuller offered to return Mr. Crean's gift. "I gave it and I won't take it back," Mr. Crean said to Dr. Schuller. "Dig a hole and the money will come." That turned out to be prophetic, and today the Crystal Cathedral is

Walk Where Jesus Walked

"We are planning to have hundreds of people from around the world — the United States, Canada, Germany, the Netherlands, Australia, New Zealand, and other countries — join us to 'Walk Where Jesus Walked.' We'll visit the actual places where He was born, lived His life, performed His miracles, died on the cross, and rose from the dead," says

Robert Anthony Schuller as he announces the Crystal Cathedral "Walk Where Jesus Walked" pilgrimage to take place next October.

This is the pilgrimage that many Christians desire to make - sometimes for a lifetime - knowing that it fosters faith, strengthens hope, builds relationships, and encourages people to grow in their devotion to our Savior, Jesus Christ.

"It is the ultimate, positive, enriching experience for your faith," Rev. Schuller says. "This is one of the most important places for Christians to worship God and a great way to connect in the

Myrna Beach: Reflecting God's Love

By Dr. Jim Kok, Pastor of Care Ministries

Myrna Beach calls herself "independent." When you hear what she went through as a youngster you can see why. And the Kansas "dust bowl," where she was born, fueled her unsettled condition.

In an effort to stay employed, her father moved the family back and forth between the family farm in Kansas and work in Los Angeles. When Myrna was ten, her twenty-year-old sister died in a car-train accident. Within three years, both of her parents had died, as well.

Her mom, devastated by her daughter's death, took her own life, and soon after her dad died of a heart attack. Myrna and her four brothers were suddenly on their own. She felt so abandoned, missing her parents and sister and wondering why her mom would leave them as she did. With five children remaining, Myrna agonized, "Were we not good enough?"

Myrna Beach

It wasn't long until the five siblings moved permanently from Kansas to settle in Southern California, where the younger children finished school while the older boys worked off and on at Warner Bros. Studio in Burbank. Myrna says, "I don't remember being unhappy or feeling poor. I guess everyone was poor. But I knew I was different with no parents."

At the age 16 and a senior in high school

Beloved, long-time Crystal Cathedral volunteer announcer, Ed Arnold

Ed Arnold Receives Lifetime Achievement Award

Hour of Power volunteer announcer Ed Arnold, whose sports-casting and news-casting career has spanned many decades, and baseball-announcing legend Vin Scully were honored with the 2007 "Lifetime Achievement Awards" during the Radio-Television News Association of Southern California's 57th awards banquet on January 27 at the Universal Hilton Hotel in Universal City, California.

Ed is a Golden Mike Award-winning radio and television news and sports anchor. His more than 50 years on the air include long stints KABC-TV, and KTLA in Los Angeles. Besides his volunteer duties at the Crystal Cathedral, he's currently anchor of "Real Orange," the Orange County oriented news and public affairs show on KOCE-TV.

Vin Scully has been the voice of the Brooklyn and Los Angeles Dodgers for more than half a century, and is a member of the "Baseball Hall of Fame" and the "Radio Hall of Fame." Among his many notable moments are calling Sandy Koufax's perfect game in 1965 and Kirk Gibson's dramatic ninth-inning home run to clinch the come-from-behind win for the Dodgers in the first game of the 1988 World Series.

The Radio-Television News Association is a non-profit organization representing broadcast newsrooms in Southern California for more than half a century.

"Logos" Winter Quarter Focuses on Exodus

By Anita Sherbanee, Crystal Cathedral Elder

Bill Creasy

Logos classes have just begun on Monday evenings at 7 PM in the Freed Theater. During this Winter Quarter, "The Bible: Plain and Simple" series focuses on the Book of Exodus, which opens with the story of the Israelites in exile in Egypt and continues with the giving of the law and the building of the Tabernacle.

If you haven't had the opportunity up until now to join the almost 300 other students, it is not too late! Dr. Bill Creasy's Bible study series is a systematic, verse-by-verse, expository study of the entire Bible, Genesis through Revelation. It consists of a weekly two-hour lecture; written introductions, notes, outlines, and bibliographies for each book of the Bible; color satellite maps, timelines and photographs; a high-quality leatherette binder — and no homework! Students simply sit back and enjoy Dr. Creasy's dynamic weekly presentations. His deep knowledge of the literature, languages, history, and culture of the Bible, his love for the Scriptures, his dynamic teaching style, and his remarkable sense of humor bring the Bible to life as never before.

The course consists of three 10-week quarters each academic year, and students can enter the program at any time, back-ordering material they may have missed.

The cost is $85/quarter and you may register for the Winter Quarter at the Box Office, 714-544-5678. For further information, call Logos Ministries at 310-915-2007 (logosmin.org).

HOUSE OF POWER

What is a House of Power?

By Joanna Kelley, Houses of Power

Simply put, a House of Power is an individual who says, "I am a person of positive (Christian) faith." When two or more gather together, then you have "Houses of Power."

What we are doing is developing a network of people just like you — people who consider themselves people of positive faith...people who desire to make their homes places of Possibility Thinking and Possibility Living filled with faith, hope, and love.

Some people meet in groups in their homes or other locations, and that's great — but it is not mandatory. We have no desire to program or control anybody's life or activities.

NEW HOPE

Prayer Community: Offering Heart-Lifts!

By Dr. Bill Gaultiere, Exec. Dir., New Hope Counseling Center

Brian Sutherland, a longtime volunteer counselor for New Hope Online who lives in Gainesville, FL, now serves as a New Hope Prayer Team member for the online Prayer Community. Brian has personally prayed well over 1,000 prayers for others in the Prayer Community!

When we thanked him for his service, he said, "God has smiled on me since joining the new prayer ministry. I feel more well-connected and invigorated, like I'm functioning on a 'higher plane.'"

Brian shared that recently a woman named Michelle, who had sought counseling help in New Hope's private chat room, said to Brian: "I just wanted to say thank you. This past Sunday when Rev. Schuller was speaking of the number of e-mails and prayer requests he had read over the past week, I was one of those. It truly lifted my heart to know that. I didn't think he would have time. I feel blessed! I am definitely a newbie in the Christian faith. Things have been very bad in my life, so I turned for advice and prayer to Crystal Cathedral's Prayer Community, and I know it is helping. Things are getting better, and you are helping me soar to new heights in my faith."

If you, like Michelle, need a heart-lift, I encourage you to join the new Prayer Community. It's simple to get started, go to hoursofpower.org/prayer to:

- Submit your prayer requests.
- Start a Prayer Journal.
- Respond electronically to others' prayer requests.
- Develop spiritual friendships with other participants.
- Grow in your understanding of prayer through online resources.

Communication Skills & Crisis Intervention Training

You can make a real difference for Christ in the lives of people who are hurting and need prayer. Our New Hope Counseling Center is training new volunteers to serve on our 714-NEW-HOPE hotline on campus or our NewHopeNow.org private chat room from home computers. The class will give you the basics of lay counseling (communication and compassion), as well as help you in your everyday relationships. To learn more, visit the New Hope table on the Plaza after services on Sunday mornings, or call 714-971-4123.

DR. KOK'S KORNER

Kindness Ideas 2007

1. Give a compliment to everyone who helps or serves you in the course of a day's activities. For example: "You have a nice smile," or "I like your name," or "You are such a good worker," or "You are a sharp dresser."

Jim Kok

2. When illness or adversity affects someone you know, or are slightly acquainted with, call them and say: "I heard about your special challenge and I'm concerned for you." Let them talk and then say, "This must be difficult. I'll be praying for you." Conclude the call after the one called talks. Consider closing with a prayer on the phone. Ask, "May I say a prayer for you?"

3. When you learn of a death in the family of anyone you know, even a slight acquaintance, call on the telephone. Identify yourself clearly, then say, "I heard that your brother (mother, cousin, dad, grandfather) died. That is so sad." Then let them talk. Finally say, "I want you to know you are in our thoughts and prayers, and we know a death like this is very difficult."

4. Greet people heartily with a smile everywhere you go – in your neighborhood, in the halls of your workplace or school, at the shopping mall, and everywhere else you find yourself.

5. To everyone you do business with on the telephone, close the transaction saying, "Thank you for your helpfulness," or "I enjoyed working on this with you," or "You have a pleasant voice."

known as one of the most distinctive Christian buildings in the world.

John Crean's rags-to-riches story began when he founded Fleetwood Enterprises in Riverside, California in 1950. The business became a $3 billion-a-year Fortune 500 company and the leading producer of RVs in the United States.

Mr. Crean's Christian principles led him to become a generous benefactor to a number of organizations, including our ministry. Through the years, he contributed generously, including the gift of one of his homes, the historic Rancho Capistrano in San Juan Capistrano, the site of Senior Pastor Robert Anthony Schuller's first church.

6. Test God who neither faints nor is weary.
7. Wait on the Lord so that you can "run and not be weary, walk and not faint."
Your church, the Crystal Cathedral, lifts and strengthens you by reinforcing these tried and true principles with our possibility-filled message every week. This month, I want to encourage you to follow these steps when your heart feels weary and heavy laden. Do that and you will rise up on wings as eagles!

Generous benefactors and friends, John and Donna Crean, prepare to break ground with Dr. Schuller.

All of us in the Crystal Cathedral family extend extend our deepest sympathies to John Crean's beloved widow, Donna, as well as to his children and family.

ACADEMY & HIGH SCHOOL

Academics, Arts, Athletics, Allegiance

By Sheila Coleman, Director of Family Ministries

In the fall of 1977, Arvella Schuller started a new school model: a private Christian school with excellent academics with the arts and Bible as part of the core curriculum for every student. In the nearly 30 years since, the Crystal Cathedral Academy expanded to include an excellent middle school and outstanding high school.

The elementary, middle, and high schools have all received the highest accreditation report possible by Western Association of Schools and Colleges. The high school, only in its sixth year, has already had students accepted at Eastman School of Music, USC School of Architecture, and pre-medicine, just to name a few.

Educating and encouraging students in grades K-12, 7 AM until 6 PM, Monday through Friday, at the Crystal Cathedral Academy and High School, positive values are developed, creativity is valued, friendships are formed, love is alive, and Jesus Christ is Lord.

For more information, go to crystalcathedral.org/academy, or call 714-971-4158.

LET LOVE LIFT YOU UP!

Dear Sheila,

My wife and I are celebrating our 25th wedding anniversary on Valentine's Day. Our marriage has been without any major troubles. We get along fine, but over the years, we have grown apart. Now, I find myself facing our upcoming anniversary and, as our daughters plan a family celebration, rather than feeling happy about it, I am dreading it. Try as I might, I can't seem to feel the love I once felt for my wife. Can you help me?

Loveless in Miami

Dear Loveless,

The feelings of love do change over time. Don't be misled by the slippery slope of measuring the health of a relationship based on feelings. My father has always said, "Love is a decision, not a feeling."

When you married your wife, you made a lifelong commitment to love and to cherish her. It sounds like you have a strong foundation for a terrific marriage. You don't complain about her nagging you. You don't indicate that there has been infidelity or issues with drugs or alcohol. So, you have everything going for you and your marriage.

You might want to remember the things you used to do together that brought you closer in mind and heart. Whatever they are, pray and ask God to help inspire you two to start doing those things again as you begin your next 25 years together with a renewed commitment to your relationship.

I would also suggest that you make a list of all the qualities you love about your wife. Read the list, and thank God for all those endearing traits. Make a commitment that you will not let one day go by without affirming her and thanking God for her.

I commend you for your faithfulness. I pray you'll have a wonderful life together. And, happy anniversary!

Sheila

"TURKEY TROT" MISSION TRIP TO BAJA

By Dr. Sande Herron, Pastor of Cathedral Singles

Hungry children. Hungry adults. "Feed my people," said Jesus.

Our singles heard these words and took action. Picture this: A very large and homey room, long tables and benches, worn tablecloths, and plastic glasses. One hundred hungry orphans along with another two hundred and fifty needy people and helpers poured into this room for a delicious Thanksgiving dinner.

The Singles Ministry delivered the food. George Hansel, along with Karla Bjorklund, Dot Timmerman, Mike Stroebel, Nancy Rowbottom, Jan and Pete Van Dyken, and Pastor Bob Ruegsegger, brought forty turkeys to Vicente Guerrero in Baja, Mexico. They also brought the love of Jesus as they decorated the dining room, cooked and cleaned, and shared smiles with everyone.

At "SALA," Pastor Bob blessed everyone with his message, "Different Ways to Worship Our Savior." Yes, we worship with money and going to church, singing songs, and praying, but there is nothing that compares with the smile of a child.

Bel Air Presbyterian Church provided the turkeys, Foundation for His Ministry (ffhm.org) provided the groceries, and the Cathedral Singles provided diapers and formula for the babies. The orphans provided the thank-yous that will never be forgotten.

people the most about Jesus is how we treat them. Dr. Robert H. Schuller has often said, "The only Jesus some people will ever see is the Jesus they see in me."

How often does a believer give a cup of water in Jesus' name - in the form of a tangible deed that gives hope, or a refreshing word shared that lifts up the downhearted? The answer: As often as possible, whenever the opportunity may arise.

The operative word in missions, therefore, is "opportunity." We must take every opportunity possible to "do good" in the name of Jesus so that the world will, indeed, hear with their hearts, the good news of the gospel.

The Community Missions Partnership Report (see sidebar, right) reflects only part of our partners in mission. It does not list the many good works spearheaded by other departments of this ministry. Nor does it reflect many members and friends of the Crystal Cathedral who may be partnering in missions of their own, like Clara Landrus who was called to India this year to dedicate a school building in her late husband's name.

The report also does not reflect the impact of our part in the partnership with the fine organizations and persons listed. For example, the L.A. Mission could not keep up with their need for men's clothing and socks. One small bulletin announcement several years ago about the need for clothing has resulted in the mission needing to send a truck to pick up our congregants' donations every other week.

Our congregants are givers. We see their Time and Talents and Treasures spent on this campus every day of the week and every week of the year. A volunteer of 20+ hours a week told me last night that all her life she had to do something - go to school, go to work, raise a family, or help a husband. She made up her mind that when she retired, she was not going to work again. This would be her time to give and serve, something she had always wanted to do, but had never before had the time.

How many of our congregants sing in the choir, play in the orchestra, perform in the Glories, go into the "highways and hedges"? I don't believe we can know, but I do know one person who represents the rest. This precious, older woman has done so much. She is faithful to

In the Beautiful Arboretum "The Celebration of Life Singers" Promote Healing Through Music

By Donna Sivachenko

On Saturday, February 10 at 7 PM, a special concert by a choir comprised entirely of cancer survivors and their support partners will inspire you as they share their joy of living through song. What makes this group so successful is the way it connects with its audiences and its message that life can be wonderful despite a cancer diagnosis. The mission of the Orange County based "Celebration of Life Singers" is to promote hope, strength, and encouragement through the healing power of music.

"When music is really communicated well, it comes from the heart," says Marvin Meyer, a professor at Chapman University, and "what you see and hear from cancer survivors is coming from people who know something about living in the face of death - who at times faced their own mortality. They capture that sublime, emotional affirmation of life that is part of music."

Sponsored by the Homebuilders Sunday School Class, this concert is free; a love offering will be taken. Everyone is invited - and invite your friends!

6,000 Hour of Power Ambassadors Enlisted!

Dutch Christmas Tour with Daniel Rodriguez & Jan Mulder

By Erik van Laar, Hour of Power Netherlands

All around the Netherlands, the Hour of Power Christmas Tour was an immense success. Five evenings in a row, thousands of visitors enjoyed the musical skills of Daniel Rodriguez, pianist Jan Mulder, Dutch Idol Angelique, and a large orchestra plus choir.

It wasn't easy to top last year's concerts, but visitors were blown away when Daniel Rodriguez started singing. Rodriguez' impressive voice warmed every little corner of the ancient Dutch cathedrals and created an instant Christmas atmosphere. Singing hymns together generated that special feeling of solidarity. Meeting other Hour of Power viewers meant so much. "An extra dimension to your average Christmas," one attendee said. Another comment: "This isn't just music; this is ministry!"

The five Christmas concerts produced 6,000 enthusiastic ambassadors for the Hour of Power in the Netherlands. Ambassadors promote the Hour of Power and attract their friends and relatives to Sunday's broadcasts!

Cactus Gardens, just over our back fence, a parole house for former inmates trying to make re-entry into a not-so-friendly society. Our congregant helps them with English and tests, and gathers goods to make their first home more comfortable. At Christmas and Easter, she gathers goods to put a gift on each bed of each resident. This year, when we received our annual thank-you note from the men, one said that some of the men had received nothing this Christmas but their gift bag from this ministry, making it even more precious - it was all they had. Just one TALENT being used in one place.

"Where your treasures are, there will your heart be also."

"Where your treasures are, there will your heart be also." Because so many of you are good stewards of the resources God has given you, you have finances to give. But, even more important, it is the moving of God's Spirit and grace in your hearts that make you such generous givers to His Kingdom's work.

Generous giving has made so many things possible. It is faithful giving that measures its substance and strength. The quantity of those found "faithful" in the giving of their TREASURES is the treasury of this ministry...your ministry...the Crystal Cathedral - the church with a heart.

(she'd skipped the 2nd grade), Myrna caught the eye of her physics teacher, Rex Beach. He liked her and, on certain class outings, they became acquainted. After graduation, they went on their first date to a movie in L.A., and eventually married. Together, they began a family that would eventually include a daughter and two sons. After Rex's three years with the Navy Air Corps, where he served as a navigation instructor, they moved to the Orange County flatlands - Placentia and Anaheim, with Rex settling into a teaching job at Valencia High School.

Though her birth family was Christian, they seldom went to church. Now and then Myrna had accompanied an aunt to church. On one such occasion, at a revival service, Myrna accepted Christ. Though Jesus was now her "Savior," God still seemed distant to her. A few years later, while the "little farm girl" (as some mockingly called her) attended the 6th grade, she had a powerful spiritual experience. "God touched me," Myrna says, "and gave me the promise that I was okay, a good person, and in need of nothing to earn His approval." Myrna pinpoints that event as bringing God in close, setting her free, and spurring her growth as a person. It enabled her to forgive her mother and "all my own shortcomings were lifted."

As a married couple, Myrna and Rex became regular churchgoers. Myrna grew a lot in her faith during these early years of marriage, but church life changed when, from the pulpit, they were told how to vote in an upcoming election. So, they found a new church where, by coincidence, the pastor said on their first visit, "This is a church - no politics here." They were hooked. Within weeks, Myrna was recruited and began a nearly 40-year career as a Crystal Cathedral Sunday school teacher.

When Rex died too young, Myrna says, "I had to learn to trust God with my future." It was then, Myrna recalls, "I realized I was not responsible for making anyone happy. Happiness has to come from inside."

One of her new ventures was finishing college (Cal State Fullerton) and becoming certified as a public school teacher. Even while teaching school, she enthusiastically volunteered at the Crystal Cathedral as a Sunday school teacher (at every level), greeter, tour guide, New Hope volunteer, ministering elder, and more. During this time of great spiritual growth, her favorite books included Life Together by Dietrich Bonhoeffer, A Person Reborn by Paul Tournier, and three of John Powell's - all high on her list of life-stretching influences.

In the late 1970s, when Dr. Schuller asked people to sponsor windows for the "all-glass church," Myrna's life received another boost. On her window, it said, "Lord, make my life a window for your light to shine through and a mirror to reflect your love to all I meet. Amen." This has been Myrna's daily prayer ever since. We all agree she lives up to it.

Student Ministry Mission Trip to the Dominican Republic

Sharing God's "Good News" Through Service, Good Will, and Encouragement

By Jeff Slack, Pastor of Student Ministries

Airplane rides, food, weather, homesickness, crime, and language - these are all factors that cause people to wonder whether or not mission work in a third-world, developing nation is worth all the hassle. As a leader, you also wonder whether accepting the responsibility of exposing students and adults to missions is going to pull them closer or push them away from service opportunities in the future based on their good or bad experience.

As a team, we wrestled through all these questions a year before we even went and yet, when it was all said and done, the result was amazing.

On January 5 of this year, our team of eight returned from a 10-day trip to the nation of the Dominican Republic (think one island past Cuba) and we had a fantastic time. Our trip there encompassed many facets: evangelism, service, good will, and encouragement. We traveled throughout the entire country and we shared the message of the Good News of Christ with many children, youth, and adults, always working in cooperation with local churches so that they could conduct follow-up when we were gone.

In a couple of places, we were told that we were the first non-Dominican or Haitian people ever to visit that community. Through the ministry of puppets, testimonies, prayer, construction, juggling, music, and fun, our team witnessed 65 people make first-time decisions to begin a relationship with Jesus Christ.

We also were able to help a very poor Haitian community outside of the capital city of Santo Domingo build a mini-playground for the children of that community; complete with sand, a swing set, and benches. When we conducted an outreach to that community that evening, they were astonished we were there because most Dominican nationals were afraid to go there in the day, let alone at night. They really appreciated the fact we were there. Some kids made decisions that night and God totally blessed our outreach that evening.

When you finish a trip like this, you gauge the success of that trip on two criteria: the fruit of the ministry and the response of the participants. The fruit to the communities and the churches was amazing and we praise God for allowing us to be part of that. Moreover, what was also quite impressive was that, when we were getting ready to leave, not one student was ready to go home; they all wanted to stay and continue ministry.

When asked if they would return, they unanimously asked if they could be part of the next team - now, that's a successful trip! Plans are already underway for another trip next year during Christmas break and, if you are interested, we would encourage you to contact Brian Manley or me through the Student Ministries Department at 714-971-4180.
