Last summer, I spent hundreds of hours reading through the Bible and highlighting thousands of positive verses as I read. I included these highlighted Scriptures in the new POWER for LIFE Bible because I believe their life-changing message connects us to the positive power we need to move forward into possibility living.

The Word of God is powerful. The same word that called worlds into being is the power that breathes life into each of us every day as we hear, receive, and believe it. And when we really listen to what God says and put it into practice, we walk forward in the power of the Word and become all that God longs for us to do and become.

With summer just around the corner, usually offering us a little extra time to kick back and relax, why not take advantage of that opportunity by going on a spiritual adventure with God in His Word? The POWER for LIFE Bible is a great place to begin. Its positive devotionals, introductions, "power people" portraits, inspiring quotes and prayers, and creative study aids will energize your faith and help you plug into God's love and power in your life in exciting, new ways.

Also, bring your POWER for LIFE Bible (and your loved ones, friends, and neighbors) with you to church every Sunday so we may read the Scriptures together from our new Bibles during worship services.

My prayer for you is that this POWER for LIFE Bible will help you move forward in God-inspired possibility thinking, living, and doing. My prayer for all of us is that we – as a congregation – will ignite together through God's power for life!

Spiritual Formation: Gospel Statues Brought to Life!

Saturday, June 7, 9 AM to 12:30 PM, Art Gallery

On this free morning retreat, "Walking with Jesus in the Gardens of the Crystal Cathedral" led by Dr. Bill Gaultiere, you will meet Jesus in new ways by participating in guided meditations before statues depicting scenes from His life and teaching. Each statue will come alive as a prayer station!

Walking quietly along the beautiful garden grounds, we'll pause before each work of art to read the Gospel story represented and to practice an ancient spiritual discipline that will help us to connect deeply with Christ. What joy will be ours to behold the smile of Jesus along with rescued sheep, skipping children, forgiven men and women, and devoted disciples. You'll be renewed in your devotion to Christ and your ministry to others.

RSVP today! Call Barbie at 714-971-4123 or e-mail bbarrientos@crystalcathedral.org and receive a schedule listing each of the statues and spiritual practices for the morning retreat. Be sure to bring walking shoes, sun protection, a water bottle, snack, pen, journal, and a folding chair (if you want to sit during meditations at each statue).

Spiritual Growth Fun Zone

Join our new spiritual growth fun zone, with Pastor Beverly Muffin on our One Community website. Pastor Muffin wants to share her love of the Bible with others in what she is calling "Bible Trivia" for beginner/intermediate/advanced players.

Each week on One Community there will be a series of questions: five for beginners, two for intermediates, and one for advanced. During that week, everyone participating will be welcomed to be in community with one another to discuss the questions, share their answers, and ask their own questions. At the end of each week, Dr. Muffin will give the answers to that week's questions and post another set of questions to continue the fun of learning more about the Bible.

SHORT-TERM MISSIONS

Serve the World by "Going" or "Sending"

In 2008, we're offering many opportunities to bless people around the world through short-term missions. Already this year we have traveled to the Dominican Republic to help build homes through Habitat for Humanity, and are on our way to assist a Pastor in Tanzania. Future trips include those to minister to orphaned boys in Tecate, Mexico, and Bobby Schuller is leading a group to Nepal in June. If you aren't called to go on a mission trip, you may want to consider sending others to do God's work. For more details, contact Pastor Beverly Muffin at 714-971-4325.

HOOR OF POWER INTERNATIONAL

"...He Cares for You!"

By Frank Handrich, Hour of Power Germany

2008 has begun as a very exciting and challenging year for the Hour of Power in Germany. We had to change our airtime from TV channel VOX one they changed their TV programming, plus we needed to find a more cost-effective outlet. At the beginning of the year we began telecasting Hour of Power on a national channel called "The fourth Channel" and on the regional channel Rhein-Main TV. We're very thankful that we can still broadcast the positive message of Jesus Christ through the Hour of Power in Germany. The bible verse, "Cast all your anxiety on him because he cares for you" (1 Peter 5:7), came true. God cared for us and provided us with new airtime options in Germany.

One viewer, D.V., wrote: As I heard that VOX has cancelled the contract with the Hour of Power, I was desperate. I sat there and cried for an hour. It was too much for me. Then I prayed, Lord, my God, please help them to find new airtime. I don't want to miss the Hour of Power. Now I still can watch the Hour of Power and I'm very glad. God's goodness is never ending."

For us it's great to see how God is working through the Hour of Power in Germany and the deep impact it has in the lives of the people. Right now eight people are working in our German ministry and we can see strong monthly growth. Our goal is to have a big impact in this country with the positive message of Jesus Christ in the daily life of the people.

work, if you can make your life's passion your work, you ain't working. Well that's what we're doing. I highly recommend it to kids. Media is important. It's our culture. This is critical work because when I see kids like you, I'm rejuvenated. When I was your age, I didn't believe what you believe. And now I see you, I know what you believe. It's what I believe. It's all about the Cross. You guys have that and I say okay, God's in charge, ain't me.

Jason Illian is the Vice President of Contest and Programming for GodTube.com. He has published many inspiring books and speaks at many shows and conventions.

Jason Illian: Who's my role model? You know, I love to read some of the old thinkers like C.S. Lewis, Albert Einstein. In terms of somebody I look up to, I look up a lot to my mom. She was beautiful, intelligent, and caring. She also taught us to be well-rounded in all the things we do, kind of like the whole Renaissance man type. They wanted us to do all this stuff and try all this stuff. So all the boys, we were all athletes, played an instrument for a while and graduated at the top of our class. So instead of having just one role model that did everything, I have a role model in every category. You know, try to play basketball like Michael Jordan, try to think like Albert Einstein, try to do ministry like C.S. Lewis, try to do all these things. Kind of like create your own path, blaze your own trail.

ON LOVE

Robert A. Schuller is the Senior Pastor of the Crystal Cathedral and its Hour of Power television program. He is a great orator who also writes books.

Robert A. Schuller: Now love is an interesting thing. Relationships between people take place in various ways. It's hard to determine what love is as opposed to infatuation or just, what we used to call "twitter-pated." Love is really making a commitment. That requires maturity and it requires an understanding of what a commitment is.

I want to encourage young people today to focus on what God has called you to do, what God's called you to be, and to really walk in the shoes that God has given you. Every single individual is unique and every single person has also been designed by the journey that they lived. Many things are part of the journey you experience and some things are unique to you. That's part of God's way of shaping you. Give God enough time to shape and mold you so that you can discover who you are before you bring more people into the mix to confuse the journey you're called to walk.

Donna Schuller, the wife of Senior Pastor Robert A. Schuller, is involved in many charitable organizations and mission outreaches. She is also a certified nutritional consultant who helps people find healthier, more productive lives.

Mrs. Donna Schuller: For me at least, it was in my personal experience; I lost my father when I was really young. I think that's one main reason why people come together to say "I love you" so soon. As a young person in junior high, I felt like I had to have a boyfriend. I needed to feel loved by a man because I didn't have a dad. I think that also happens when you don't have a healthy relation-cide if it makes sense or if it doesn't, in which case I'll reject it. If it makes sense, then she observes that I will live with that concept for a while and I'll be doing research all through that time trying to understand what's going on related to it. Then eventually, I get to the point where I can't contain it any more. I have to get it out... and I go away for a week and she says I explode the book. I usually will write a book in anywhere from a week to two weeks... I can't write a book in a long period of time because I lose the continuity of the thought. So I will go in 18 hours a day, 7 to 8, 10 to 12 days in a row, whatever it is. I will just be there at the computer with my two fingers pecking away and putting it together. That's how it works.

Q: In one of your recent books on revolution, you share this idea that we are the church and that incumbent upon us to be the church. We have to do it. We have to honor the process of how the Holy Spirit leads us to be the church. We can't just show up to a building for an hour or two.

A: There's nothing in scripture that says you are supposed to go to church. The only thing it talks about is you being the church. How? Your life is supposed to be transformed through your relationship with Christ and the Holy Spirit living within you and doing the constant new work of God within you from day to day. So if you see your life that way, it changes everything. All I do suddenly has to be an act of worship. It has to be an act of service. It just takes on a very different understanding of why I get out of bed this morning. It wasn't just to go make money, not to go put in time, wasn't to do anything else other than to honor God. He takes me here just to do a handful of things: love Him and other people, obey him, worship, serve other people. If I've done that, I've done what I was here to do, and that's what being the church is all about. It may take place in a conventional church building with all the ceremonies and rituals or it may not. But when you look at how Jesus lived his life, he didn't say, "Wait a minute, wait a minute, I've got to go to the synagogue and be the church." Wherever he was, he was the church... This is what it means to be part of the kingdom of God. Don't think of it as a place where you're going. Think of it as who you're being – what you are called to do right now. God didn't put you here to take up space on the planet. He put you here to be an agent of transformation. How can you do that? You have to do it 24/7. That's what being a revolutionary Christian is all about.

"Give God enough time to shape and mold you so that you can discover who you are before you bring more people into the mix to confuse the journey you're called to walk."

ship with God. We've seen this in our own kids' lives; when one of my sons felt disconnected from God, he got very attached to a young girl. Now looking back, I see that he had an emptiness about him and he somehow needed that girl to help fill and complete him.

I sometimes think Robert and I are so alike but we're so different. That's why we get along so well. You have to look for compatibility. If you start dating and you find yourself always in fights about this and that, then that person isn't the right person for you. Look for somebody that brings out the best in you. If you're with somebody that's bringing out the worst in you – by making you cry, lose your temper, or cuss all the time – that's the wrong person. That's your message from God. God has another plan for you. Make sure you're with a person that wants the best for you, one who supports your strengths and doesn't bring out your weaknesses.

STRIKING POINT

George Barna is the founder of Barna Research Group, a leading marketing research firm focused on the intersection of faith and culture. He works in media-related organizations to spread God's Word.

Q: Your productivity is quite inspiring, but how do you do it?

A: My wife says I don't write books, I explode books. What she means by is that I get an idea for a book and I live with it for a little while. I'll de-

THE JOY OF GIVING

"One poor widow...gave two mites... her whole livelihood" Mark 12:41-44

CRYSTAL CATHEDRAL

Carol Harris: Her Glass is Half-Full...and Filling!

By Dr. Bill Gaultiere, Director of New Hope

Carol Harris's life is a testimony to the power of living in the joy of the Lord. Her smile, her words, and her spirit radiate in unison with a genuine optimism that makes a wonderful difference for Christ. Her glass is half-full...and still filling!

Carol volunteered for New Hope in 1992 because she wanted to bloom where she was planted – to serve God right now, right where she was. Never mind that she had just weaned her sixth baby! When Dr. Schuller gave an altar call for New Hope volunteers, she responded. She had always wanted seven children and so New Hope became her seventh baby!

"I am so happy," Carol smiled as she explained. "I've had such a wonderful life with my husband and kids. It seems only right that I should do something to help people who aren't happy. You know, very few people who are happy call New Hope. And Nobody in my family knew I was gone! Nobody missed me." (She took the 12 midnight to 4 AM shift!)

Carol has been a New Hope night owl for 16 years, now serving on the 4 to 8 am shift and says she that shift because that's where there is the most need.

So far, Carol has answered about 5,000 New Hope calls. What keeps her going? She knows that by caring for hurting people she is part of God's work. "When I leave the New Hope phone room I don't worry about calls. I say a prayer, 'God please take care of (name of caller). His/her problem with (depression, divorce, etc.) is in your hands.'"

John Allen: He is a Witness for Christ

By Dr. Bill Gaultiere, Director of New Hope

John Allen describes his eleven-year New Hope counseling ministry as a as, "a way to be a witness for the Lord." John explains: "At New Hope, the Lord sends people to my phone that have problems I match up to. David, my longtime shift mate, says it's the same for him. We talk about the calls we take and marvel at how God works!"

In 1992 John's wife died. They had raised their children and were looking forward to enjoying their golden years together and suddenly she was gone. John recalls trying to be pragmatic about his grief, reminding himself that she was in heaven. The next Sunday he was in church at the Crystal Cathedral where he and his wife had attended since 1979 and when he sang the hymn, "Count Your Blessings," his tears began pouring. He cried in loneliness for her.

Is it just by chance that John gets so many calls at New Hope from people grieving? No! He believes that the Lord directs these calls to him. In fact, in the hours before his New Hope shifts, John prays for God to direct calls to him. Recently, John received a call from a man who lost his wife and is still recovering. John could identify, and was able to share the Lord's love and to encourage the man that Christ is working in his life.

Since John retiring in 1997 from his 30-year teaching position, John has gone into full time ministry, volunteering for 12 different ministries at a time! He feeds the homeless through Crystal Cathedral's "Real Help," and has enjoys playing Barnabas in The Glory of Easter.

John, who has walked with Christ since his youth, reads the Bible every day. But it was from Christian fiction, "The Medford Series," that he learned this simple prayer: "Lord, make me a blessing today!" He prays it each morning as a way of asking for God's help and then looks expectantly to see what the Lord would do through him that day. Indeed, he's been amazed by the results!
